PRINCESSES IN BUSINESS

There are now thirty-four Russian Princesses in England engaged in business, says an English correspondent. Strange to say, while many find it hard to make a living, these exiled refugees all seem to prosper, although some of them can scarcely speak a dozen words of the English language correctly. One charming Princess sells puppies and claims to be making a cool £7,000 per annum.

THE HANSEN CASE

Criminal Appeal Under Consideration at Ottawa

The following report of a meeting at Sylvan Lake, from Mr. A. M. Steele, was received by us too late for last week's issue:

Sylvan Lake, September 5, 1924.
On Friday afternoon, August 23rd, the Citizens' Committee of Sylvan Lake had the pleasure and satisfaction of meeting their Federal member, Mr. Alfred Speakman, Esq., M.P., the matter of moment being the position of affairs under the Falkner and Criminal Court of Appeal resolutions adopted by the Committee. The tenor of these resolutions arising out of the Hansen case will be within the recollection of the people of Alberta. Briefly, they called for compensation from the authority at fault to the so grievously injured family of the late Edgar Falkner and the constitutional consideration by the Dominion representatives of the Canadian people at Ottawa, of the terms and powers of the Act under which the Court of Criminal Appeal was constituted.

In the unavoidable absence of the Rev. W. G. McKechnie, who had had an interview with Mr. Speakman earlier in the day, Mr. Harvey Jamieson was appointed chairman of the meeting. At the request of the chairman, the secretary, Mr. A. M. Steele, gave a resume of the reasons for the formation of the Committee and the history of its deliberations and actions to date. Mr. Speakman, whose earnestness in this cause and whose appreciation of the gravity of affairs of national moment which arise out of this case, had been disclosed in previous correspondence, received a very warm and genuine greeting. He reported that he had taken immediate action upon receipt of the Committee's resolutions.

He pointed out that when the Act constituting the Court of Criminal Appeal was rushed through the final sitting of the House, no member realized either the intention or the scope of the Bill; that the then Minister of Justice intended to oppose the Bill (which originated in the Senate), but he was called away and was not in the House when it was introduced; therefore, there was no discussion of its provisions by the people's representatives. Also, that he had had communications with the present Minister of Justice, together with eminent Canadian judges and the Attorneys-General of the Provinces, with the result that it was realized that a grave position of affairs existed in this respect; that the benefits of the well-tried and generally satisfactory system of trial by jury were threatened with suppression or extinction; and that the clauses of our Immigration Act were either defective or had been deliberately or negligently misunderstood by either the Danish authorities or servants of this Dominion, seeing that the man, Vilhelm Elmar Hansen, had a known criminal record in Denmark of some twenty years, yet was admitted as an immigrant into this country.

In connection with the Falkner resolution, he reported that he had brought this matter before the proper authorities and the Premier, a letter from whom he read, a copy of which, together with a copy of one from the Minister of Justice, is appended. He expressed himself as hopeful that the Dominion Government, under the apparently faulty condition of the administration, or the avoidance of the conditions governing immigration to this country by other authority, would give suitable compensation to Mrs. Falkner and her family.

Mr. Speakman acknowledged the receipt by post through the secretary of fifty endorsed copies of the resolution, and informed the committee that he had received in all through the secretary and directly through the post, 125 copies endorsed by city, town, village, or municipal council throughout Alberta. Thereupon the secretary presented 12 others received since posting the previous fifty, thus making a final total of 137 public bodies in the Province which backed the action of the committee, from north to south and from east to west.

He acknowledged the patriotic motives and the sense of justice which had animated each member of the committee and gave praise for the moderate, firm and logical manner in which the resolutions had been framed and the correct method of their presentation.

The Federal government is making investigation, he said, concerning the circumstances of Vilhelm Elmar Hansen's admittance to Canada with his child, among others of preventing any repetition of the landing on these shores of undesirable colonists and the safeguarding of the public weal.

At the close of his address, Mr. Speakman laid stress upon the declaration that he had declined consistently to discuss the verdict in the Hansen case in any manner whatever, and would continue to do so; his special responsibility towards the electors being confined to Dominion matters.

A very hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Speakman, proposed in felicitous terms by Mr. A. McCaskill, J.P., seconded by Mr. S. Bryan and supported by Mr. A. M. Steele, brought a hopeful meeting to a fitting conclusion.

Office of the Minister of Justice,
Ottawa, May 19, 1924.

Dear Mr. Speakman:—
Referring to the letter from Mr. A. M. Steele, of Sylvan Lake, Alta., which you left with me the other day, I may say that the representations which Mr. Steele makes on behalf of a committee of citizens of Sylvan Lake will be given careful consideration in connection with amendments to the Criminal Code.

Yours sincerely,

Criminal Code Amendments

Mr. Shaw:—Does the Minister of Justice contemplate any amendments to the Criminal Code or to the Bankruptcy Act at this session of Parliament?

Mr. Lapointe:—Many amendments have been suggested and are being considered with regard to the Criminal Code; but it would be a heavy bill to carry over this session. At this stage the government is considering whether it would not be better to postpone these amendments till next session. In making a decision in regard to postponement, the Government may possibly be influenced by the heat.

Mr. Speakman:—In connection with consideration of possible amendments to the Criminal Code, is the Minister of Justice considering the suggestions I laid before him arising out of the Hansen case, with regard to appeal in criminal cases?

Mr. Lapointe:—Yes, the remarks of my hon. friend are being considered. It is a very serious case, and the Government is considering the question with regard to amendments permitting appeals in criminal procedure. It will be a very important amendment to repeal this part which was enacted last year. The Government is considering the matter.

Prime Minister's Office,
Ottawa, July 18, 1924.
Alfred Speakman, Esq., M.P.,
Penhold, Alta.

Dear Mr. Speakman:—
I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 14th instant, together with the papers therein referred to, from which it appears that a large number of residents of the Sylvan Lake district in the constituency of the Denison, in the Province of Alberta, are desirous that suitable monetary compensation be granted to the widow and family of the late Edgar Falkner, who was slain by one Vilhelm Elmar Hansen at Sylvan Lake, Alberta, in November, 1923, and that the provisions of the Criminal Code regarding Criminal Appeals should be repealed or amended.

In reply I beg to assure you that the representations of all parties who have petitioned the Government in this connection will receive the most careful consideration of the Government, and that there is anything compatible with sound principles of legislation and administration which can be done for the relief of the unfortunate sufferers in this case, any requisite action on the part of the Government will be taken without delay.

I desire to make it clear, however, that in dealing with this matter the Government cannot proceed upon the view that it is under any general responsibility for criminal acts committed by persons immigrating to Canada, nor for the decisions of the courts charged with the administration of justice in the province.

Yours sincerely,
(Signed) W. L. MACKENZIE KING.

FLOUR MILL FOR RED DEER

With an eye for further development of the co-operative movement, in agriculture and industries allied with it, about a score of farmers met last night at Red Deer, and seriously considered the establishment in Red Deer of a flour milling industry.

The action was taken in the police station, the Council Chamber being in the decorators' hands. Those present included Messrs. J. Anderson, W. Blakely, Hugh Lawver, J. W. Boyce, W. Byre, J. E. Eversole, W. H. Evans, A. H. Hopworth, A. Henderson, W. Milne, H. Munton, H. P. G. W. Smith, M.P.P., T. Wells, H. Wallace, and R. D. Woodworth. Messrs. H. B. McNeill and E. S. Hogg were also present representing the Board of Trade.

Mr. H. Bower, being elected chairman, introduced to those present Mr. N. Ricker, of Halkirk, who had had some experience as a miller, and had a proposition to put before them.

Mr. Wallace first of all said a few words, urging the desirability of a flour mill in Red Deer, after which Mr. Ricker explained his position in detail. He had interviewed Mr. A. T. Stephenson and some of the members of the Board of Trade, and talked the matter over with them. He proposed to install a 10,000 bushel mill in Red Deer, but was frank to tell them he could not finance it entirely himself. He was willing to seek out either two or three houses. Either the farmers should advance what capital he needed, taking repayment in custom grinding, or a joint stock company should be formed, in which he would take 51 per cent of the capital stock, the farmers taking the rest. The Threshing BEE

MANY a Canadian has witnessed the whole-hearted co-operation of a Western threshing bee. Neighbourly unity accomplishes in a day what one man could not accomplish by himself alone, and he in his turn helps others accomplish what they would be powerless to do as individuals.

Mutual Life Insurance is like that—an exchange of neighbourly support. It is not a matter of profit for shareholders—it is mutual service for all. Profits there are, of course. The Mutual Life of Canada is well managed. But the profits are divided among the policyholders to reduce the cost of insurance.

Let us send you literature on Mutual Insurance. Write us. Or call our agent and he will explain details of our various Endowment, Monthly Income, Ordinary Life and Limited Payment Policies.

25-barrel mill would cost $7,000, and a 50-barrel mill about $8,000. The 10 per cent deposit with the order and the further 51 per cent on delivery he himself would be willing to pay. The mill complete, with the cost of installation, would cost about $15,000.

The questions of location, power and manager's salary were discussed at considerable length, and also the territory such a mill might be expected to draw business from, and it was finally decided that the scheme could be profitably worked. When the meeting was finally ready to do business, Mr. Hogg was appointed temporary secretary, and Mr. Wallace moved that the whole matter be left to a committee consisting of four farmers and one representative of the Board of Trade.

Nominations being called for, the following were selected by the meeting: Messrs. A. Henderson, Ronald Pye, B. Latam, J. J. Richards and R. B. Wallver. Some difficulty being experienced as to who should be convenor, Mr. Welliver moved, seconded by Mr. Woodworth, that Mr. Wallace be added as chairman and convenor of the committee. This was carried. This committee was to arrange an immediate canvass of the whole district for subscriptions. With this the meeting adjourned at about 10:30.

HITS CHINESE TRADE

If the women of Canada and the United States continue to hold their hair, one of China's important industries is doomed.

The bobbed hair habit is having a disastrous effect on the manufacture of hair nets. The demand for hair nets has decreased so decidedly that during the past few months the industry has been practically at a standstill. The exportation of hair nets from China in recent years amounted to $10,000,000 (gold) annually. The industry was rapidly built up in China following the 1911 revolution, when the edict against the wearing of queue was issued, flooding the market with human hair.

STUBBLING IS FAILURE EIGHT TIMES IN TEN

Maple Creek News: Apparently there are some things about which no amount of "experience teaches wisdom," and one of them is the utter folly of stubbling in crop. Year after year for the last twenty years or more farmers have lost money by this practice. There has been the odd year when it turned out well, but it is safe to say that eight years out of ten it has been a failure. This year is nothing short of disaster. It is highly probable, however, that there will be farmers who will stubble in crop in 1925; if they don't, it will be because they had to plow down so much crop this year that was stubbled in that there will be no stubble left for 1925.

TWO BY-ELECTIONS IN QUEBEC

The two-by-elections recently held in Quebec to fill vacancies in the Dominion House of Commons have both resulted in the election of Liberal candidates at the expense of Conservatives. Free trade as against protection was a prominent issue in both elections, and the Liberal candidates pronounced for a measure of free trade even more thorough going than that embodied in the Liberal Government policy. They were, in fact, in this respect nearer to the Progressive party than the Liberal, and their success under these circumstances makes it probable that the government will have to give even more consideration to the Progressive wishes than they have done hitherto. It is rather surprising to find Quebec so favourable to free trade. It was considered that Quebec's attitude on that question was nearer to a middle policy than to either free trade or extended protection. It makes it all the more needful for Conservatives to make a very thorough examination and possibly a revision of their policy on this matter if they are to command success at the next election.

There was another feature of the elections, or at least of the Rimouski one, which is not surprising but is wholly discreditable. The Liberal candidate was a General Fiore. During a great part of the war he was Deputy Minister of Militia. As such he held office during the period when the Conscription Act, which was wholly the work of the Minister of Militia, and that on the contrary he did his best to "mitigate its rigour" in Quebec. Further, the "General" and his friends all disclaimed his real right to the title of "General," and denied that he was in any way a real military man any more than a "Kentucky Colonel." The friends indeed always spoke of him as "Dr. Fiore."

Just consider what this means. Here is a man who held the second highest official position in the Canadian War Department during the Great War, which is not yet six years old. He drew the pay, wore the uniform, and bore the title of a soldier. Yet now he actually boasts, and makes his boast a basis of claim to represent a Canadian constituency in Parliament, that he did no real military work in the war, and that when the Dominion Parliament was the overwhelming assent of the people of Canada passed a Conscription Act, he not only disapproved of it, but while still holding to his post and his pay, did his best to undo the work of his official chief and assist the people of Quebec to evade the law and skirt their simple obvious duty. He boasts of it, and his boast succeeds. He is elected to the Canadian Parliament. He may be, no doubt he will be a welcome recruit to the MacKenzie King, that daring war hero, but he remains a person whom honourable Canadians will despise to the uttermost, and his constituency and the province of which it is a part will remain a disfiguring blot on the Imperial Dominion of Canada.

THE REPORT ON THE CIVIL SERVICE

The Committee appointed to investigate the Civil Service of Canada has now reported. The report is interesting but not startling. It confirms the impression which has for some time been general, that the Civil Service is over-staffed and can be considerably reduced without loss of efficiency and with no little saving of public funds. The report also makes clear what most people suspect, that the Civil Service itself is the chief obstacle to its own reform. Officials not unnaturally have the idea of losing their jobs, and wholesale reduction of the numbers of Civil Service officials means that many lose their jobs and the rest have to work harder. Therefore a wall of protest against any reduction can be counted on from the Civil Service. The report does not seem to bestow as much attention on the method of recruitment of the Service or of promotion within it. The investigating committee do not appear to have made up their minds to appear to stand out and out the patronage system so dear and so useful to party politicians and so expensive in cash and annoyance to the Canadian public. Yet it is extremely probable that the method of recruitment is mainly responsible for the over-staffing. If political services can be rewarded by Civil Service appointments, made like appointments to the Order of the Garter "without any damn nonsense about merit," then the temptation is strong to multiply such appointments irrespective of their necessity, and party politicians rarely make a prolonged stand against such temptations. Further, if original appointments are made irrespective of qualifications, further promotions are apt to be made irrespective of merit, which does not tend to produce either satisfaction or efficiency in the Service.

If the report is acted on at all, it will be good, but it almost seems as if the report might have been even more serviceable, if it had been more thorough in its recommendations. The members of the Committee were, however, human, and their report is human like themselves. The odds would seem to be fairly heavy in favour of little reduction in numbers and less increase in efficiency in the Service as the result of the report.

EDITORIAL NOTES

What critics say is the biggest picture of the day starts at the Box Theatre tonight. Newspapers in cities in which it has shown, moving picture reviews, educationalists and the movie patrons who have seen the picture and its presentation, and recommend it to all comers, all commend the picture. The management of the theatre is entitled to a great deal of credit in bringing to Red Deer pictures like "The Covered Wagon," so soon after its release in Alberta.

The livestock shown by the pupils at the School Fair last week was well up to the standard set by the Red Deer Exhibition. The judges stated that it was the best showing they had so far inspected. The pigs especially were so good that an effort is being made to have a carload sent to the Fall show in Edmonton. It is a pity that more citizens did not attend the Fair. Even as it was there were far more interested spectators around the judging ring than there has ever been at any of the annual exhibitions.

A boy named Grant, 19 years of age, is under sentence of death and awaits hanging in Chicago. He does not seem to be a very unusual case. He is the son of Leopold and Loeb do not. For that matter, neither do we. But it is certain that his parents and millions of poor people of the States will think and say that it proves that there is one law for the rich and another for the poor.

The Mountaineer, Rocky Mountain House, reports the Council of the Municipal District of Raven as having passed the following motion: "That secretary-treasurer notify Father MacDonnell that the council of this district desires to bring to his attention the fact that no provisions are being made for the maintenance of settlers that are being brought in by him into this district, and that unless such provisions are made the council will have to take the matter up with the department of immigration and colonization." We have not heard of the council of any districts having to maintain any of the Hebridean settlers. We wonder why someone is trying to throw a sonkey

The W. E. LORD CO. LTD. RED DEER, ALBERTA

There are so many new attractions in all our departments that it is impossible to numerate them all.
Visit our store and see them firsthand.

Ready-to-Wear COATS

Our range of coats this year is larger than ever, and you will find them wonderful values, classy, up-to-date and within the reach of everyone.

Heavy Polo coats with loose back, small collar, or with inverted pleat in the back; good serviceable coats, stylish yet comfortable $16.95 to $25.00

Plain Coats in Velour, Camel Cloth and Fine Polo, some with contrasting color, others with self material, loose back, flare sleeves with buckled cuffs; dressy looking coats $25.00 to $48.50

Young girls all like fur collared coats, and at our prices they can afford one. In check polo cloth and velour; they are all good looking coats with brown beaverine collars, loose back, large novelty button on side, tie belt. Some have shawl collars and fur cuffs $18.50 to $42.50

Our better cloth coats are trimmed with coon, mufoune, Russian fur, and are made of fine velour, heavy tweeds and heavy camel hair cloth. The collars vary, being edged with fur, large fur shawl collar or deep fur collar. The very latest is a throw with the ends trimmed with fur. For style, material and price these coats are unequalled $38.50 to $65.00

The newest coats this season are made of Silk Marvella Cloth, and are very stylish coats indeed with dark fur collar and cuffs. To see these coats is to appreciate their beautiful rich appearance. They have loose sleeves with tight fur cuffs. Some are perfectly plain. $42.50 to $48.50

DRESSES

Smart Flannel Dresses made on the straight lines, narrow all around belt, small collar, square neck, vestee of contrasting color, long sleeves, with turned back cuff, flame, brown. $10.95

Plain Flannel Dresses, narrow belt, small round collar and V-shaped neck, bound with silk braid. The sleeves are long and wide, fastened with buttons to form a tight cuff. Around the hem and up to front, buttons make a very effective trimming; grey, fawn. $11.75

Another very smart dress is a Jade Green, small collar which forms a V-neck, bound in grey braid with silk ties, wide belt across the front and narrow tie in the back. There are several vertical rows of grey silky braid and colored buttons on the front of the skirt, long sleeves with deep cuff $12.50

Red is especially becoming to young girls, and they would all like this charming dress of Scarlet Flannel with touches of grey. It has grey Peterpan collar and cuffs, and grey stitching braid in fancy designs on the skirt, and is only $13.50

There are several other kinds in plain and check flannel, one to suit everybody. We are always glad to show them to you. For going out in the evening or for street wear as well as business, a dark dress can always be used.

Navy Blue Tricotines trimmed with black military braid in effective designs or with several rows of braiding, makes a most becoming and serviceable dress. A smart frock is in Olive Green Poirer Twill with silk braid to match, in scroll design on the skirt, sleeves and front, plain round neck, long sleeves, wide at cuff.

Brown is very popular this season, in plain or more elaborate dresses. One very dressy model has narrow silk braid in vertical rows from shoulder to bottom of the skirt, long loose sleeves gathered into a tight cuff; narrow tie belt.

A dress of these materials is very serviceable to slip on, and always looks smart and attractive. We have quite a large range from which to make your choice.

THE COVERED WAGON

Just Imagine This---

You'll see hundreds of men, women, children, horses, oxen--a two-mile wagon train of pioneer days--fleeing for their lives from a raging fire that laid waste nine square miles of prairie.

You'll see a thousand real, yelling, painted Indians riding madly to attack in their famous "circle of death" formation.

You'll see a buffalo hunt with the world's only remaining herd of buffalo. You'll see the wagon train ford a turbulent mile-wide torrent.

You'll see the whole spectacular heart drama of the perilous, glorious days of '49. The story of a man's love and sacrifice for a beautiful girl in the most amazing settings ever photographed.

Your most gorgeous screen adventure.

LOST—DUROCK JERSEY BROOD Sow, due to farrow, H. Kingzett, West Park. Phone 52. Sept. 17, 1924.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. E. P. Croquist and family wish to thank their friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and sympathy during their recent bereavement.

With only six days of his 50-day sentence left, a prisoner named West made an attempt to escape from the provincial jail at Lethbridge on Saturday afternoon. He was recaptured after an hour's freedom.

Taking advantage of the presence of oil refineries in the city, the municipal council of Lethbridge has started offering a mile stretch of road with oil refuse costing 3 cents a gallon. Two coats have been given the road at a cost of $223. A third coat will be applied.

It is anticipated that English orders for Canadian wool will exceed 1,000,000 pounds this year, which will be a considerable increase over the business of 1923, amounting to 700,000 pounds.

Definite advice has been received at Victoria, B.C., that the Japanese training squadron, consisting of the "Kishima," "Asama" and "Azuma" will visit Victoria during the winter. The squadron will leave Japan early in December, following the annual fall manoeuvres.

Approximately 60 per cent, or 1,252,604 of the population of Western Canada live on occupied farms. Of the balance, 474,516 live in its 20 cities and towns of over 2,500 and 225,002 in 3,300 small towns and villages of 2,500 or under.

The work of re-balling the main line of the Canadian Pacific between Montreal and Toronto (the Lake Ontario shore line) has just been completed. Nearly 2,000,000 tons of crushed rock, or about 35,000 carloads, were used in this operation. Officials state that the roadbed is now as excellent as it can be made and second to none in the world.

Successful strawberry culture 300 miles north of the international boundary has been proven possible by R. A. Gordon, of Edmonton, Alta. One hundred plants brought from Ontario wintered well, blossomed heavily and produced a prolific crop of well-formed, fine-flavored fruit with rich color and flavor. Mr. Gordon has likewise had much success with cherries, wild plums and crab apples.

Steady progress has been made by the macaroni industry in Canada during the past decade. The Bureau of Statistics reports that, whereas the Dominion imported nearly 7,000,000 pounds in pre-war days, it imported only 1,900,000 pounds and exported 2,200,000 pounds in 1923. Nine factories, with a capitalization of $973,000, now operate in Canada, with an aggregate output approximating 11,500,000 pounds.

Whaling operations off the coast of British Columbia this season have been very successful. Four stations and six or seven whalers have secured 30 head so far this year. Whale oil is selling well in England, while whale meat, canned, is an established commodity in West Africa, the entire British Columbia whale meat crop of last year having been sold there.
